OUR MISSION

OUR VISION

- The mission of Guardian Angel Family Crisis Center (GAFCC) is to meet the immediate needs of woman who have lost control of their lives, who are struggling to raise their children, or who have been left shipwrecked by economic or marital hardship.
- GAFCC offers practical help, from food and clothing needs, to help navigate government agencies, including housing, health care, and services to disenfranchised women. We run a thrift store where women and children can come for immediate clothing needs. We counsel, console, encourage, and assist.

THE GUARDIAN ANGEL GAZETTE

VOLUME 1, ISSUE 2

JULY 30TH, 2011

A Little Child Will Lead Them

Madelyn Launen, a happy 6-year old, donated her birthday gifts to Guardian Angel Family Crisis Center. "Thanks for all the work you do to make our community a great place for all types of families!" says Madelyn's inspiration - her mom.

Sweet Tooth . . . Kind Heart

Matt Douglas sold cupcakes at his dad's office and raised $80, which he gladly donated to GAFCC.

Faith of a Child

A future cupcake boss in the making, Ian raised $42.63 from family and friends for his Tzedacha cup, for his favorite charity, Guardian Angel.

Taking it to the Streets

Brother and sister took to the streets in their Glen Head community and raised $31.

Glenwood Landing Church

Glenwood Landing Church donated Christmas gifts to a neighborhood family. "If it weren't for you and the church, my Christmas would have been boring and disappointing," says Kalahn. "I really had a merry Christmas thanks to all of you," says Kaseem.

"Guardian Angel Family Crisis Center offers merchandise and meaningful counsel to all who are in need and are ready to turn their lives around."

Birthday Donations

Deborah Finch, of Glen Head, donated her birthday money to help a mom with much needed items for her new move after being evicted from her previous home. Target and Food cards were also purchased as gifts.

Long Island Press Fortune 52

Barbara Costello, founder of Guardian Angel Family was among the recent women who were honored at the Fortune 52 networking event at Tanger Outlets at the Arches. The event is held to honor and acknowledge a group of extraordinary women who are highlighted each week.

It doesn't take much to help another person out - just a little bit of love - the secret ingredient.

Testimonials

GAFCC has been a blessing to me in many ways. I have found it rewarding volunteering for a cause that positively impacts Long Island families' lives. This organization has provided me with tailored, professional clothing that I would not have been able to afford having been unemployed off and on for the past three years. Looking my best when I attend a networking event or go on a job interview gives me a boost of confidence during this discouraging time of my life. Now that I have landed a temporary human resources position through an agency in the city, I am wearing skirts, blouses and pants to look my very best. An Ann Taylor suit jacket, coupled with my own skirt, creates a professional appearance to make a favorable impression needed for interviews. Thank you Barbara Costello and GAFCC! --Amy

Dolores Albrecht worked for the NYPD for the last 25 years. Her background lends itself to appropriate handling of domestic violence cases that comes across GAFCC’s path. She will be running our booth at the Sea Cliff Mini Mart on October 2 and our sewing class on Wednesdays from 12:00 to 2:00 pm. Dolores says she enjoys volunteering “because now I have the time to volunteer and enjoy giving back.”

Paul Asadourian volunteers in helping women job search, garage sales and fundraising events. “I volunteer because I find it heartwarming to give back to those who need help in the community.”
